PROJECT Active

Will you feast with me?

This project will be about youth festivals. We will explore different kinds of festivals for the young, spot similarities and differences and talk about the benefits the young people can reap, either by merely participating in them or, even better, organising one of their own! We will focus on the idea of such festivals serving as cradles of inclusion, allowing everybody to participate! Festivals promote acceptance, tolerance of diversity, kindness, well being, solidarity. The more traditional, the higher the cultural awareness! Festivals spread the idea of integration and cultural identity, social harmony and brotherhood! Getting engaged in the preparation of a festival empowers the young and strengthens their self esteem and identity, improves their social skills behaviour.
